A valid metric that has started being used by analysts in order to determine the success of an upcoming project is the social following. Initial coin offerings and other types of crypto projects typically have a following of enthusiasts, the bigger the following, the greater the community audit, public acceptance and potential growth metrics.

AdaSwap's success has been through out amazing community and following. We hold a combined 40,709 loyal followers and counting! The Ecosystem Fund will be directed toward strategic growth and powering the Cardano parachain. This fund will be used for key partnerships and growth opportunities as well as developing tools for creators, more use cases for the ASW token ecosystem.

Please note, this is an estimate based on the current tokens sold and tokens we estimate to be sold in the future.
